

The Hedgerow Gifts for Country Living, Florist, Café and Coffee Shop

Situated in the Dales village of Threshfield, The Hedgerow has been immensely popular since opening in 2004, the success of the flower shop has led to an extension to develop a new coffee shop and large open plan shop leading to an outdoor patio area.

Flowers are imported fresh from Holland meaning The Hedgerow has access to almost any plant or flower desired. This large variety of flowers is kept at constant temperature ensuring they are maintained in the finest condition. Flower arrangements including hand tied bouquets, contemporary arrangements; country posy; just a bunch or the window sill or restaurant flowers and corporate events are crafted by the experienced Hedgerow team and are created by the customer to their exact preferences.

The Hedgerow offers a wide range of indoor and outdoor plants as well as a selection of bulbs and herbs. We operate a bay and box tree hire service. The Hedgerow also demonstrates a choice of creative hanging and window boxes, again, designed to the customer's exact liking.

As well as a comprehensive mix of plants and flowers the Hedgerow offers an extensive selection of gifts for country living ranging from local designers to national companies such as Emma Bridgewater and Gisela Graham. To accompany your gifts and flowers a tasteful choice of cards are available from designer 'Two Bad Mice' or local photographers and botanical artists. The Hedgerow also uses luxury wrapping to ensure your gift is safe and arrives in style!

The new coffee shop enables you to browse at leisure with a tea or coffee or a homemade cake from a local farm bakery. There is seating available in the shop and underneath the balcony in front of the shop to watch the Dales pass by, or on the patio at the rear in the garden and nursery where you are surrounded by the national collection of hebes and a variety of purchasable garden plants.

The Hedgerow displays a wide range of freshly delivered flowers from Holland which are kept at constant temperature to ensure they are in the finest condition. The Hedgerow also offers a free wedding consultation service in order to create the finishing touches to your perfect day.
